

Healthy Neighborhoods Learning Collaborative Meeting

Thursday, March 29 | 1385 Broadway, 23rd Floor, New York NY

Healthy Neighborhoods partners from the six NYC-based sites convened on March 29, 2018 to learn about food policy and planning for health equity. Meeting participants also included partners from the New York State Health Foundation, New York Community Trust, NYU Evaluation Team, Active Living By Design, and other guests.

Session slides and resources are hyperlinked in the agenda below.

Networking Lunch & Opening Remarks

Irfan Hasan, The New York Community Trust

Introductions & Overview

Active Living By Design

Opening Panel: Food Policy and Planning for Health Equity

Participants learned about the Empowered Eaters report which provides strategies to strengthen the systems that help New Yorkers eat well, and The Fourth Regional Food Plan which provides a roadmap to address health inequities rooted in the built environment. Healthy Neighborhoods partners explored connections between these road map documents and their projects.

Claire Uno, Deputy Director, Laurie M. Tisch Center for Food, Education & Policy, Columbia University Teacher's College

- Session Slides
- Empowered Eaters, Executive Summary
- Empowered Eaters, Full Report

Mandu Sen, Program Manager, Regional Plan Association

- Session Slides
- Excerpts from The Fourth Regional Plan for the New York Metropolitan Area

Small Group Discussions

Concurrent sessions with Claire Uno and Mandu Sen enabled convening participants to discuss how nutrition education policy and regional planning efforts impact NYC neighborhoods.

Reflections and Closing Remarks

Active Living By Design

Nupur Chaudhury, New York State Health Foundation